BRAND PHILOSOPHY

Enthele, derived from the Elvish word ehtelë (fountain, origin), was created with the mission to offer an ethical and ecological alternative to the traditional diamond jewelry market.

Whilst holding on to the traditions of excellence that define the art of fine jewelry, Ehthele made the commitment to make every one of our jewels not only elegant, beautiful and unique but also meaningful.

Ehthele's vision is to create a magical universe preserving the natural treasures of the earth by using cultivated diamonds that have far less direct impact on the environment than mined diamonds.

BRAND PHILOSOPHY

WHERE IT ALL BEGINS

For Saskia Díaz and Javier Méndez, the forgers of Ehthele's creative process, it all begins with the unique silhouette of our isotype as a starting point.

Each line and shape is meticulously examined to evoke the essence of our brand.

The materials chosen – always noble and exceptional – are yellow or white gold and diamonds, which infuse our creations with life, personality, freshness and a unique approach.

CONCEPTION & REVELATION

Once the initial sketch takes shape, we make the leap into the three-dimensional dimension, and this is where the magic really happens.

There is a fascinating interplay between what we imagine and what the design reveals as we build it.

Details and nuances that did not find their place on paper emerge out of nowhere, enriching the work in progress, as if the design itself is leading us in a creative conversation, revealing its secrets and revelations as we explore its 3D forms.

EMERGING FROM OUR HANDS

In our workshop, a team of artisans fuses manual skills and technological precision to create jewelry that boasts an exceptional finish in every detail. Each piece that emerges from our hands is a tangible testimony of beauty, authenticity and passion.

But not only that, at Ehthele we have a focus beyond aesthetics. All diamonds that are part of our creations are lab-grown diamonds, offering socially and environmentally conscious women and men the opportunity to own exclusive and guilt-free diamond jewelry.

AS PRECIOUS AS OUR VALUES

REAL

THE ART OF CREATION

There are no physical differences between lab-grown diamonds and mined diamonds; the only difference is origin. They share the same chemical and optical properties and are both 100% carbon-made.

Cultivated diamonds are created by scientists under the same conditions as those from the depths of the earth; pressure, heat & carbon. This is why lab-grown diamonds are real diamonds; just as real as any naturally mined diamond.

UNIQUE

NATURALLY UNIQUE

Just as mined diamonds, cultivated diamonds are unique. They each have their own birthmarks and characteristics, which means that two diamonds can't ever be the same.

Those differences are determined by a diamond's 4Cs: Cut, Colour, Clarity, and Carat weight.

ETHICAL

SUSTAINABLE DIAMONDS

Ehthele has chosen to work exclusively with lab-grown diamonds for their clear ethical and environmental advantages over mined diamonds.

“Mined diamonds represent more than 7 times the level of impact as compared to grown diamonds.”

Environmental Impact Assessment, Frost & Sullivan Report (Nov. 2014)

QUALITY

GUARANTEED QUALITY

The diamonds used by Ehthele are among the finest lab-grown diamonds you can find.

As a promise of quality, all our diamonds above 0.5 cts are certified and graded by an independent gemological laboratory based on the internationally recognized criteria commonly known as the 4Cs (Colour, Clarity, Cut and Carat weight).
